Human Origins and the Bigfoot Connection

We are delighted that Steve Meera, editor of the magazine, "Phenomena", is visiting us again with yet more insightful research

For countless years, Man has looked up at the stars and questioned his very existence.

Darwin would have us believe we evolved from the apes; religion would have us believe that humanity was sparked by the pairing of Adam and Eve... and of course, there are those that believe in the 'Intervention Theory' that states that extra-terrestrial intelligent life had a hand in creating a unique living organism with incredible capabilities: the 'Human'.

What is the current belief in our creation?... where did we come from and how?

And, more importantly, how can hominids such as Bigfoot exist within our scientific and evolutionary path?

Steve Mera delves into the question of human origins and the existence of Bigfoot creatures around the world, and presents some thought-provoking ideas.

Reverse Engineering the Trance

We are so pleased to introduce Cara St. Louis, principal lecturer at World Lectures

Cara is an American researcher, author, lecturer, and workshop facilitator.

Her journey began with the aerosol wars in 2010, made its way through a stint on David Icke's TPV channel, to work on social engineering with Harald Kautz-Vella, and so forth.

She began reverse engineering "the trance" one layer at a time: false history, food as a giant con... the list is finite but extensive.

Cara has also gathered substantial evidence that the Fae are both the first global culture and our initial seed race. This project is called "Guardians of Blood and Fire: The Search for the Celtic Heart", written with Maria Wheatley. She is presently working with Mark Devlin – he'll be coming back to New Horizons – and Sylvie Ivanowa of the "newearth" series.

Cara's speciality is the power of the human imagination... whether it underlies the demonic effort to control humanity or the way we can free ourselves and once again make our thinking our own.

H2O=Life

Joanne Hafford – very popular, here, at New Horizons – introduces a most fascinating subject, and one that is very close to home, as we are 50-75% water and our molecules, 99%

This talk will encompass many water-related topics, such as our precious planet, of which about 75% is covered by water; as well as Ganymede (Jupiter's Moon) and Enceladus (Saturn's Moon) that are also believed to hold water.

But the question still remains: where did water originate and how did it reach the Earth?

We share our Earth home with magnificent creatures like Jellyfish which are 98% water, with no brain, respiratory or nervous system.

Before his passing in 2014, Dr Masaru Emoto performed experiments by freezing water from various sources that had been subjected to genres of music; negative and positive intent through words, pictures and prayers. We will discuss his observations and the intriguing theories arising from his experiments.

From what some may see as a simple molecule, the topic is by no means straight forward. For example, how does the Jesus Christ Lizard of Central and Southern America run across the surface of the water?

There remains much unknown regarding this beautiful substance, and experiments show that water is not always H2O!

SUMMER HOLIDAYS!

We hope you have a glorious summer.

See you back at New Horizons on the 11th of September.
